Windsurfer One-Design Racing in the Finger Lakes (and western New York)

The Windsurfer, the first mass marketed sailboard, was designed and built in the late 1960's. It was offered for sale by Windsurfing International of California beginning in 1969. A one design racing class was established soon after as a way to help promote the sport. One design means that everyone uses a board and sail that are virtually identical when they race. This being at a time long before the internet, the word about windsurfing spread slowly at first. Newspaper and magazine articles helped. Beginning in the early to mid-1970's, there were a growing number of Windsurfer sailors in the Finger Lakes region of New York State who, in a sense, were among the pioneers of the sport.

A local fleet in the Rochester area had been formed in 1973-74. There were scenes forming with some excellent sailors at Cayuga Lake as well as Cuba Lake in southwestern New York around 1974-76. Windsurfing was also catching on in the western Finger Lakes region (Seneca and Conesus Lakes) in 1976-77. The first Windsurfer World Championship Regatta was held at Association Island, N.Y. on Lake Ontario in 1974.

Their promotion a breeze

By TONY DESTINO
D&C Sportswriter

The sports world has grown to be one of the more complex mechanisms known to man. Its growing popularity through the years has been helped along by eager individuals, not basically trying to make just a fast buck, but trying to make an honest one in a sport they feel is worthwhile.

Two such people are Skip and Karen Harrison, a young California couple in town to promote a relatively new sport called windsurfing.

Their immediate purpose of this week's Rochester visit is to spread the word about the upcoming America's Teacup Regatta, sort of the World Series or Super Bowl of windsurfing.

But their main objective is to stir up some excitement about the sport. And to do that, they both are well rehearsed and briefed, in addition to knowing what they are trying to sell.

Harrison, who has the title of marketing director for a Los Angeles-based company called Windsurfing International, journeyed more than 50,000 miles with his wife the past year. His job is to spread the word, while his athletic-looking spouse chimes in from time to time with perfectly timed comments.

Another big plus in their favor is their looks. They're trim and blonde and they fit the role they've been cast to.

But in the same respect, their promotion is legitimate. It has the backing of the Tea Council of the United States and is partly under supervision by Yacht Racing Magazine. It is not a hoax.

Simply, windsurfing is the marriage of a surfboard and a sail. The idea behind the sport is a waveless ride while the participant stands on the board and steers by the sail. The entire windsurfing rig sells for around $415.

Windsurfing International is the leading manufacturer of the crafts.

The key to the Harrisons' trip here this time is to promote the regional finals July 20 on Canandaigua Lake. The winner, and most likely the runner-up, win an all-expenses-paid trip to the national championship near Watertown at Association Island from Aug. 10-12. From there, the first world championships will be held at Association Island through Aug. 16.

"We'd like to see windsurfing become a household word," says Karen. "Plus, we've had the energy crisis on our side. It's helped the sport's popularity."

"There's a club in San Francisco which holds somewhere around 38 events a year," adds Skip. "But what most people don't realize is that there are more windsurfers in the East than out where we come from."

"California has the bulk of them, but that's just the one state. The East is the largest windsurfing place right now. The national championship was held in San Diego the past two years, but because of the popularity out here, we thought it was necessary to hold it in the East this year."

When asked about the success or failure of the sport, Skip is quick to reply.

"We've done this for a while now," he says, "and I don't think it's been fruitful. I wouldn't say it's going downhill. I'm pleased with the results. I just want to see it get bigger."

Their organization has a bulletin called the Windsurfing News. The Harrison's have a Madison Avenue firm plotting their course, 10-minute movie about the sport to show while they're talking and all sorts of advertising material.

The Harrisons are instructors and experts in the sport. And they have found a living in something that doesn't seem like a job to them. It truly is a job, but one they enjoy.

The proficiency of their delivery is surpassed by no one. They have apparently rehearsed and rehearsed, over and over again. Even if they didn't believe in what they were selling (which they do) you'd believe them.

The Harrisons are hard workers. Their product and their sport has been ingeniously conceived and promoted. They come at you with a down-to-earth, easy-going style lacking from sports that have grown too big to handle.

And the more they intend to keep on plugging, the greater it will grow. They've taken it this far, and the only way to continue is up.

Windsurfing's been popularized by photos like this one.

WINDSURFING—What do you get when you marry a sail to a surfboard? A lot of fun, answers Pete Smyth

MOTOR

One day not too long ago, a Windsurfer dealer called in an order. It was lunch time and the call was taken by one of the young men who, switched on by Windsurfing, had decided to make his living building Windsurfers. The order was substantial and the young man, when he relayed it to the order department after the lunch break, said, "Gee, that guy must really dig Windsurfing. Look at all the boats he's sold."

"Nope," replied the order department, "he doesn't sail at all. All he does is sell boats."

"What!" exclaimed our young production worker, "You mean he's just doing it for the money?"

This vignette of life at Windsurfer International offers insight into the attitudes that seem to motivate much of the company's personnel. For example, to Skip and Karen Harrison, Windsurfer's Eastern representatives and my main contact with the company, Windsurfing is considerably more than just a job, a refreshing attitude indeed in this day of businessmen instead of boatmen building boats.

And the Windsurfer is a boat. It is not merely a surfboard to which a sail has been fitted. It would be very easy to classify it as a beach toy, at least it would be easy to so classify it until you got aboard one and started sailing one, or—more correctly—trying to sail one.

Windsurfing is rather total involvement. It has all the mental requirements of normal sailing, plus the physical needs of surfing.

While the demand for physical strength isn't overly large—I would suppose anyone in reasonably good shape would have no trouble handling a Windsurfer—the demands of coordination and physical fitness are large, hence is the source of much of its appeal. Things that are too easy to do tend to grow flat and dull quickly. This will never happen to Windsurfing; it is such that perfection is a goal to be sought not attained.

All of which makes Windsurfing sound very difficult. It isn't. The rudiments are easy enough to grasp if you have reasonable coordination, a reasonable sense of balance and no aversion to fairly frequent and unscheduled dunkings.

Sailing a Windsurfer rests heavily on the relationship between the center of effort of the sail, and the center of lateral resistance of the tiny daggerboard. Raking the mast and sail forward makes the boat head off; raking it aft causes the boat to head up. There is no rudder, so directional control is maintained by raking the rig forward or aft to suit. Tacking is achieved by letting the rig go all the way aft, rounding up, stepping lightly around the mast and then pulling the rig forward quickly to make the boat bear away on the opposite tack. Tacking is one of the more difficult tricks to accomplish. The first time I tried it, although I didn't go overboard, I spent quite a while in iron trying to figure out how to get around the mast without taking a dive.

There are other difficult moments, but the old nemesis of sailboats—jibing—is surprisingly easy. Since the rig is in a universal joint, the whole can be let go forward and then retrimmed on the new jibe. It's a lot easier than tacking. That's a switch.

Getting started with a Windsurfer is pretty easy too. Getting underway starts with the boat rigged and ready, with the mast and sail laying in the water. Presumably, you're aimed in the direction you wish to go and the wind is on the beam, more or less. Merely climb aboard, stand up facing to leeward and start lifting the rig by means of the line attached to the mast at the wishbone boom. The sail will weather vane and luff while you're doing this. When it is up, grab the wishbone near the mast with your forward hand, a hand that can now be called the shroud hand since it is the sole support of the rig.

To get going, merely grasp the wishbone as far aft as you can with your other hand (the sheet hand) and trim in, remembering that the heeling effect of the trimmed sail can only be counteracted by your body weight to windward.

As the wind velocity increases, you will have to hike out farther and farther. As a result, since your arms are only so long, the rig will go out to windward, too. The epitome of this body and sail to windward comes when the sailor is hiked out flat to windward and he can—and a Windsurfer often will for the hell of it—dunk his head backwards in the water. As I said, Windsurfing is another whole thing.

And, having been introduced in 1969, it is a sport that is relatively new, too, although with 7,000 boats worldwide, it is already larger than most one-design classes. The boat was the mutual brainchild of Fred Payne, Jim Drake and Hoyle Schweitzer. Hoyle, an ex-computer engineer is the president of Windsurfer and is the only one of the three developers still involved. There are currently 3,000 boats in the United States with large fleets also in South Africa, Germany, Holland, Denmark and Japan.

In the United States, Windsurfer racing is organized by the Windsurfing Association. (Dr. Allan Parducci, 317 Beir Avenue, Pacific Palisades, California.) Currently, there are 16 organized fleets, 10 more in the works, and a large number of disorganized fleets. Racing is available all over the country and the association's newsletter carries the dates of all the regattas. This year's world championship will be held at Lake Ontario's Association Island between August 10-15. Since the boat, all ready to go, costs only $495<sup>00</sup>, Windsurfing has to be amongst the least expensive racing around.

But racing is only part of the pleasure that can be derived from the 65-pound, polyethylene-covered, polyurethane foam-cored Windsurfer. It has been said that small boats offer more sheer sailing pleasure than large ones. This is true not only because the hassle level is low when the boat is little, but because you're nearer, both physically and emotionally, to what you and the boat are, and the sea and the wind are up to. Windsurfing, by making you an integral, functioning part of the boat, offers a maximum in sailing involvement. And that's not bad. +

Windsurfing - History

The Windsurfer was developed in 1967 by computer analyst Hoyle Schweitzer and aeronautical engineer James Drake, both southern Californians. Along with the birth of this then-unique free sail system, an entire new sporting concept was conceived.

36 year old Schweitzer began building a few boats for his friends from his Pacific Palisades garage in 1969 and shortly thereafter decided to leave his position as vice president of a computer service firm to devote full time to the promotion of this new sport. He and his wife, Diane, set up an office in their home from which they proceeded to attack a hitherto non-existent market. By 1972 they had moved operations to a factory in Santa Monica and in 1974 they moved once again to a quadruple-the-space plant & offices in the Marina Del Rey where they currently supervise operations of the international business. By 1971 European sales were growing to such vast proportions that they began searching for a licensee who could handle the hungry market. In 1973 a licensing contract with a large multinational Dutch firm, Nijverdal Ten Cate, was executed and 'Ten Cate Windsurfing' was born. Growth rate for Ten Cate Windsurfing has been astronomical; in 1976 they produced 15,000 Windsurfers. Due to the great popularity of the sport in Europe combined with the short supply of Windsurfers, several other free sail systems have entered that market and will probably account for an additional 10-15,000 units during the year. Most of these are either direct copies or lesser quality models.

In 1974 a second licensee was appointed to manufacture Windsurfers, this time in Tokyo, and 'Windsurfing Japan' was on its way. In August of 1976 a 3rd licensee was established--this time in the fertile Australian market; Windsurfing Australia is headquartered in Sydney.

Just over 5,000 Windsurfers had been delivered in the United States as of June 1976. Anticipated sales for 1977 are in excess of 2,500--the domestic market is growing but is still a market aimed directly at the enthusiast and not at the general consumer--a thrust which is likely to be several years away. There are currently 150 dealers and 50 'Certified Windsurfing Sailing Schools' in North America.

Windsurfing International, Inc. is currently casting serious glances farther abroad for potential licensees in the promising markets of Canada, Central & South America, & New Zealand which must now import their Windsurfers.

An owners Association, the International Windsurfing Association, has been formed to help promote the competitive aspects of the one design class Windsurfer which is raced as a yacht under IYRU Rules. Entrants in the most recent 1975 Windsurfer World Championships held in Bendor, France totaled 212, the largest one design regatta ever held in Europe. 1976 Windsurfer World Championships will be held in Nassau, Bahamas with attendance estimated at 1,000 and actual entrants estimated at 300 - 400.

With such a strictly one-design class boat, there have been rumblings from well respected yachtsmen throughout the world regarding the possibility of establishing windsurfing as an Olympic event--the true test of skill being the competitive factor rather than the equipment differences.

Viewed from all aspects the future for the Windsurfer is rosy. The sport is here to stay and is going to experience rapid growth in these next few years which will firmly enshrine windsurfing as one of the great international sports.

physical sphere...

A new concept has been developed in today's surfing scene . . . It's called WINDSURFING®. The Windsurfer can glide peacefully through calm waters experiencing the never fading oneness that man from the beginning of time has shared with water or thrill to the exhilaration of speed sensations as the wind picks up. Whether in a lake, river, or the ocean WINDSURFING® combines the skill of sailing, the balance of surfing, and the vigor of water skiing.

With the development of Windsurfing International's exclusive sail/spar system prior concepts are outdated.

- The mast is not fixed but mounted on a fully pivotal universal joint.
- The sail is held upright by the surfer.
- The board steers by the action of the wind against the sail transmitted to the board through the surfer himself.

Using the latest plastics technology, Windsurfing International brings a new dimension to the concept of durability. An unbeatable strength/weight ratio assures a board so light that it accelerates immediately with the slightest increase in wind, yet durable enough to remain maintenance-free season after season.

Standing on a 12 foot surfboard, the windsurfer holds the sail upright by grasping the Wishbone boom laid out against the force of the wind in the sail. By raking the mast fore and aft, he changes the center of effort thereby turning the board off the wind when raked fore or into the wind when raked aft. The board is highly maneuverable and can tack and turn more readily than an average sailboat.

Windsurfer One-Design Racing in the Finger Lakes (and western New York) - 1977

Through the later 1970's, fleets began to grow as windsurfing rapidly spread around the US and the world. Soon there were multiple races scheduled locally and regionally each year. In the Finger Lakes, the growing number of sailors ultimately coalesced into Windsurfer Fleet 62. This was largely due to the efforts of George Bagley along with Tom and Diane Wallon of Wind Riders Marine on Conesus Lake who organized regattas and coordinated with sailors on other lakes to put together a full schedule of races throughout the summer.

DISTRICT 7

DISTRICT 7 CHAMPIONSHIPS July 25 - 27, 1980

The District 7 Championships were held at Cuba Lake Yacht Club in western New York. Seventy-three competitors sailed under sunny skies with light, shifty winds.

Friday's slalom preliminaries cut the class down to four finalists: Karl Nelson, Dan Leighton, Nevin Sayre and Tom Gump. The light winds caused most sailors to get an early start on the party trophy competition with the beer truck in full swing.

Triangular racing took place Saturday and Sunday with freestyle competition and slalom finals held on Sunday afternoon. The winds remained light throughout the weekend until everyone had packed up their boards late Sunday. With the approach of the storm, the winds and boardsailors began to howl and the boards were quickly unpacked. (Proof that it can blow at Cuba Lake.) Saturday night's steak dinner was enjoyed by all with partying afterwards to the jazz and blues of the Peabody Band from Ithaca, New York. The party trophy was reserved until the next regatta because the judges could not come to agreement on any one particular standout. (Although the competition was fierce.)

Windsurfer One-Design Racing in the Finger Lakes (and western New York) - 1980

Seneca Lake

By 1980, more than 500,000 Windsurfers had been sold worldwide. Heavily attended championship regattas for North America, Europe, Japan, and Australia as well as a World Championship Regatta were held each year. Myers's Rum became a regatta sponsor at the national and local level.

Locally, there were usually 10-12 or more races scheduled across the Finger Lakes each year. A typical race event would include multiple triangle course races, slalom racing around a line of buoys, and often freestyle windsurfing (very different from today's high wind freestyle) which involved doing tricks or stunts on the water such as sailing with your back to the sail, flipping the board up on its edge for a railride, leaning your body backwards towards the water for a head dip, and various sail spins. For the triangle course races, the sailors were divided into groups depending on their weight. Since the boards and rigs were the same, heavier sailors were at a speed disadvantage. To account for this, sailors were weighed and put in to typically three groups, and then they competed within these weight classes. Often a picnic/cookout was provided on Saturday night. The atmosphere was relaxed and casual.

District 7 News Makes Its Debut

by Staff

IWCA District 7, one of the most active windsurfing organizations in North America, is the first IWCA district to publish its own formal, typeset newsletter. The new newsletter features photographs, fleet news and rule changes which affect the districts. The newsletter publishing and mailing costs are supported by the IWCA District 7 and Windsurfer™ dealer ads. In addition to the above, District 7 News will publish the official 1982 regatta schedule for the district. Other columns will deal with sailing safety, letters to the editor, a free listing for lost or stolen equipment and a classified ad section for equipment or employment. Finally, we will publish directories of the IWCA fleets in the district as well as a Windsurfer™ dealer directory for supporting dealers.

The newsletter scope and format was decided upon by Henry duPont, District Chairman, after meeting with the 13 other District Chairmen and the IWCA Board in Grand Haven, Michigan. Henry was surprised to find that we had one of the largest and most active districts and that we had the lead in developing a really comprehensive newsletter. Before 1981, the previous newsletters were put together by Rick Cowen and were assembled with the help of his Windsurfing friends in Cataumet, Massachusetts. The two previous newsletters put out this year were composed with the help of Henry's computer word-processor on Block Island, making the regatta schedules and fleet directories much easier to edit and print.

For this newsletter all the fleet captains in the district were sent a letter soliciting regatta results, articles, photographs, art, or any other information of their fleets. Some of the fleet captains did a super job with their reports, while others sent nothing. So if you notice that your fleet's activities are conspicuously absent, call up your fleet captain and find out if he is still interested in representing you! The sixty-odd Windsurfer™ dealers in the district were sent advertisement order forms with all the information they needed to place an ad or get listed in the dealer directory. We need dealer ads to pay for the fancy publishing, so if your dealer did not support us, tell him he missed out on a good thing!

Lastly, a number of Windsurfer™ enthusiasts gave a super effort in writing the various articles and columns in the newsletter. If you would like to help in any way with articles, news, art or cartoons, B&W photographs, please do; we need all the help we can get and we will publish whatever you send. The only rule is that this is an IWCA-sponsored publication and that rules out any mention of alien sailboards unless, of course, your fleet has a saliroid roost. You should send any submissions to IWCA District 7 News, P.O. Box 457, Block Island, RI 02807. All photos or clippings will be returned if so requested. You may also call Henry at 401/466-2875 to coordinate your submission plans or to comment on the newsletter. Thanks for your support.

Schedule compliments of Wind Riders of Conesus Lake - 716-346-5201

April 1982

Fellow Windsurfer Enthusiast,

Welcome to the 1982 sailing season. Enclosed is the regatta schedule for the rapidly approaching season. I hear tell some hearty souls have already opened it.

It looks like we will all have a very busy but fun filled summer. Last year the windsurfing regattas routinely drew between 35 to 50 "windsurfers" of all ages and experience. Each regatta drew the hard core enthusiast as well as many new faces. We can well expect over a hundred participants, if the different sailors show up at once.

These get togethers provide a time for windsurfers to come together to exchange helpful hints and basic sailing to free style and racing techniques and improve skills. Also, the biggest plus is just meeting some of the friendliest and most interesting people in the world. (We've had participants from France, Sweden, England, and Germany.)

This year we plan to add some fun races at the regattas and perhaps think about breaking into fleets....one for the experts and another for the rest of us. All ideas or ways to improve our fleet will be welcomed.

Any additional activities will be posted at the regattas and will be posted in the District 7 newsletter. For those of you not receiving the newsletter, all you have to do is send $10 to:

IWCA
1955 W. 190th St.
P.O. Box 2950
Torrence, California 90509

The above would be for a year's membership in Windsurfing International. The membership entitles you to race in district and national competition and receive the District 7 newsletter. For $19.95 you will also receive the Windsurfer News Magazine. Two dollars of your membership fee is sent back to the district to support district regattas and activities.

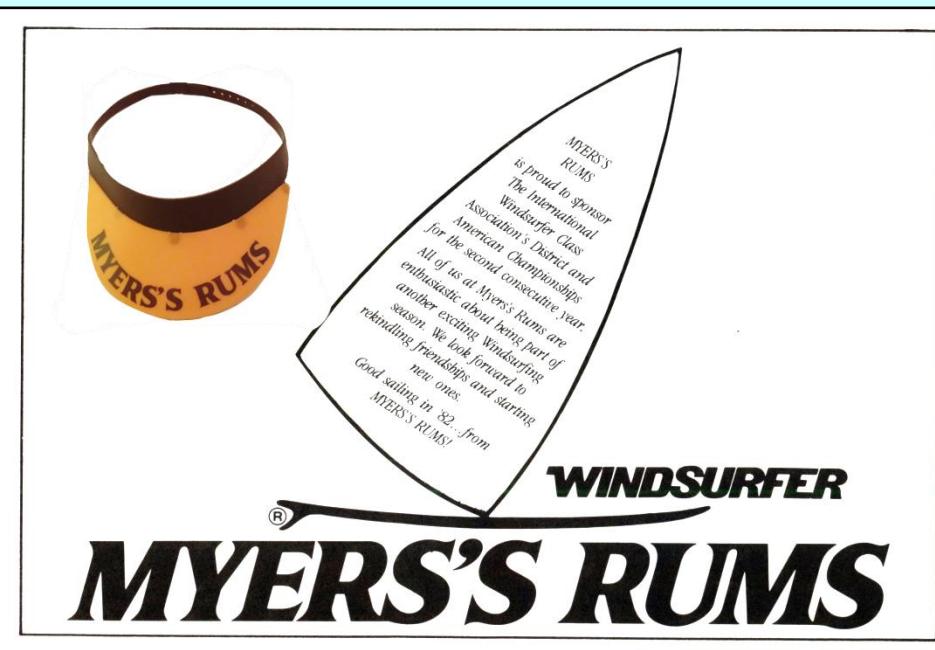

Please try to support our local regattas, they're fun and will help you, regardless of your skill level. Most will provide drink and a charcoal fire (for your meat) and trophies and prizes at a minimal cost (about $5).

We at Windriders are pleased to announce we've just purchased Shepard's Marine on Conesus Lake. Our hope is to serve your windsurfing and boating needs better.

See you on the water,

Tom and Diane

Windsurfer One-Design Racing in the Finger Lakes (and western New York) - 1982

Hot Tub Regatta – Canandaigua Lake – Sherry's Sailboards - April 17, 1982

Chilly challenge

Wind surfers anticipate the boating season in races on Canandaigua Lake near Naples yesterday sponsored by Sherry Widmer in front of her lakefront home. The high winds, at 25 to 30 mph, were too much for many of the surfboards-with-a-sail and many sailors got an unceremonious dunking in the 37-degree water, as did the competitor above. The three races, dubbed the Hot Tub Regatta, attracted about 15 participants and 45 spectators. The hot tub, with water heated to 104 degrees by propane gas, was set up on shore and after each race, the participants jumped into it "wet suits and all." Participants were also treated to champagne made by Ms. Widmer. "It was 1979 vintage," she said.

| RACE RESULTS       |                              | This year's Finger Lakes Championships, held on Conesus Lake, made for another fun and exciting Windsurfing weekend. Though the weather was cool there was a large turnout (52 Windsurfers) and the wind was particularly strong on Saturday afternoon when a squall came through the area bringing winds gusting over 40 miles per hour. The fleet went down like dominoes but most of the racers waited out the storm and completed the race. A total of 8 races over the two days made for lots of competition. Prizes for all competitors were donated by Windriders and Meyers Rum. The results were as follows: |                            |

Fellow Windsurfers

This breezin' letter is the first of many to help keep you informed, active and enthusiastic. For all those who were not at this year's Finger Lakes Championships, we have taken over as Fleet Captains for George Bagley who has held the position for many years. We hope to do as good a job as he has done in promoting the growth of the Finger Lakes Fleet. For starters, we would like feedback from you on what you would like to do concerning races, events and possible offseason activities. Please answer the questions on the back and give us any ideas you have. Hopefully we will be able to pass on your ideas to the people who will be organizing next year's events, as well as use them ourselves.

To keep up Fleet interest and enthusiasm we are offering subscriptions to the Fleet Newsletter and Fleet Membership for $3.00 a year. This fee will cover the printing and mailing costs as well as possible discounts at some of the regattas. Please send us your ideas and ~~and~~ soon so that you will receive local information and be part of this active fleet.

1982 Windsurfer Ski Weekend

By Alison Crouse

The Second Annual Windsurfer Ski Weekend was a tremendous success. District 7 members spent the weekend of March 20th at Sugarbush, Vermont, skiing both at Sugarbush and Mad River. Conditions were perfect, with bright sunshine, warm temperatures, and a light snowfall. The windsurfer skiers had a great time.

A wine and cheese picnic brought the Windsurfer group together at the bottom of the Valley House Chalet lift, and the after effects added risk and challenge to the afternoon ski session. It is rumored that Henry duPont spent more time in the air than on the ground. The windsurfer skiers had a great time, and the rest of the group enjoyed the fun. The windsurfer skiers were in it for us! (most of the afternoon chasing his runaway skis (nobody knows where they were going), and everyone cheered when he finally got them back). Several skiers, including the author, wore framed disco sunglasses.

Saturday evening the group gathered at the base of the mountain for a screening of the new Warren Miller film, "Have Windsurfer Will Travel". Thanks to our host, Bill Stinson, who is also a Windsurfer sailor and fleet enthusiast, we all had a great time. (Those who missed the screening, contact Bill at 802-496-3620 for a super place to stay and good company who talk both skiing and windsurfing).

On Sunday it was off to the Ski Machine Line at the Waterbury Airport. A well packed runway and good wind conditions gave fine conditions for the skiers. The author, who had been racing a windsurfer skier in the snow, was not too happy. Her skis were constructed by Diane Henks. She had developed a device looking remarkably similar to ice hockey shin pads with a 2x4 board connected to the skis by 10 mm legs, while wearing conventional downhill skis and boots. Diane's irreverence and determination to continue racing led her to the hospital. She had to have a 2x4 board removed from her leg. The removal was not easy to extricate oneself from the rig without broken limbs.

Since the skis were not designed for use in the snow, the skiers consisted of wooden platforms mounted on a pair of skis a la catamaran style. A windsurfer rig was then mounted on the platform and an uphaul line employed to right the rig to sailing position. Some even used footstraps to improve the sailor's stability. The machines worked surprisingly well, but next year's ski weekend is sure to turn up improved designs.

BREEZIN' LETTER

SPRING 1983

The Windsurfing season is just about here for all of us. Some of the hard core types have already been out. We are really looking forward to our first season as fleet captains and the summer looks like it will be full of activity. The calendar looks similar to past years with respect to all of our annual races. There will be some new sponsors and we encourage everyone to try and attend these races to help keep sponsor interest up.

We are adding some new activites (non-triangle races) to the summer schedule. These are a racing clinic followed by triangle racing on Conesus Lake, a Windsurfer fun day with relay races and slalom courses etc. on Seneca Lake, and a Windsurfer expedition to Lake Ontario (to practice for the Worlds) . We would like to encourage you to try and make it to the Worlds in Kingston Ontario (Labor Day Weekend) either as competitors or spectators. It won't be this close to home for a while. We have made reservations at the Ramada Inn in Kingston, on the water, for that weekend. It's a little expensive but we plan to double up in rooms and get our moneys worth. Contact us if you're interested in this. The Ramada Inn phone # is 613-519-5100 or Toll free 1-800-228-2P28. We have heard a lot of different plans for this weekend: chartering boats, camping etc. Share your plans with us and we'll pass them on to other interested sailors.

FLEET INFORMATION

Enclosed with this letter you will find your fleet membership card. Because this card entitles you to special discounts please make sure you bring it to regattas. Also you will find a letter which has information concerning the local group we have started (and you joined) as well as information on the IWCA- Windsurfer International Fleet. Hopefully it explains the difference between the two memberships. After you have read it pass it on to a friend who has not yet joined. Your enthusiasm can help us out a lot.

COMING EVENTS

Racing Clinic- There will be a racing clinic in May on Conesus Lake to prime sailors for the season. Though we will not have any World Class Boardsailors, we will have some of the experienced local racers. It should be an excellent opportunity to gain a competitive edge. Free to members of our group the clinic will cover rules, tactics and go fast techniques. There will be on-the-water practice of starts and maneuvers. The following day will give everyone a chance to try out their new ideas with a full fledged regatta.

SURFERS ON THE MOVE

Richard Thomas and Dave VanArnam of Syracuse plan to take part in the annual HOOK-IN and HOLD-ON regatta in the Virgin Islands in June. Peter and Kathy Hixson of Cazenovia had the opportunity to sail in Hawaii this winter. Peter says that it was a real experience (one most of us would love to have)

Steve Sisler of Ithaca is wintering down south this year in Florida. No reports since he left but we're sure he is doing well in the competition there. Good luck Steve! Dick Tardiff, Scott Rowe and Steve Harrison of Rochester were seen sailing the day after Christmas. That may be the record for the last day of surfing for 1982 but with the ice off the lake less than 24 hours Steve Lutter was out enjoying the breeze March 7 this year. Were you out before then? Scott Rowe and Steve Lutter made fun of the winter ice by sailing their ice and snow machines regularly throughout the season at high speeds. Finally, we have moved to Syracuse and will be sailing mostly on Oneida Lake. There is a nice park in Brewerton at which the locals here say "Sailboards are Encouraged". Come and sail with us. Our new address and phone is: Steve and Cherie Lutter Q-1 Cobblestone Drive 315-699-5145 Clay, New York 13041

If you have any news to share with us in our next Breezin Letter send it to us. We welcome contributions.

Pray For Wind,
Steve & Cherie

Breezin' LETTER

June 83

The season is already well under way with three races already behind us. The following are results of these races:

RACE RESULTS:

May 1, Cazenovia Lake- While the weather did not cooperate too well, giving us foggy conditions and little wind, it did not easily keep the Windsurfers down. The turnout was good for a season opener. David Perrin of Canandaigua was the big winner followed by Peter Britton of Rochester.

May 29 & 30 Conesus Lake- The weekend began with a racing clinic being offered by Dave Waterman and Steve Lutter to help get everyone re-acquainted with the rules, sailing techniques etc. There were about 15 racers present. The morning lecture covered topics on land and in the afternoon everyone took to the water for practice starts and races. This was a good opportunity to re-create the race situation and everyone seemed encouraged. Thanks go out to Dave and Steve.

The racing that took place the following day was very exciting. We had lots of wind. The results of the days races are as follows:

| Lights                    | Middles                  | Heavys                  |
|---------------------------|--------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1. Barclay Moore 5 pts.   | 1. David Perrin 5 pts.   | 1. Steve Lutter 6 pts.  |
| 2. Manfred Parker 11 pts. | 2. Peter Hixson 12 pts.  | 2. Dave Waterman 7 pts. |
| 3. Cherie Lutter 11 pts.  | 3. Kevin Gilbert 14 pts. | 3. Rich Thomas 11 pts.  |
| 4. Klaus Kremmin 15 pts.  | 4. Bill Allen 17 pts.    | 4. John Travis 17 pts.  |
| 5. Lisa Forster 22 pts.   | 5. Jim Pfohl 20 pts.     | 5. Dave Manning 23 pts. |
|                           | 6. Dick Tardif 24 pts.   |                         |

Dave Perrin was once again overall winner for the day.

June 4 Cross Lake- The Cross Lake Regatta started off with what looked like miserable, overcast, day. Dutifully, the race committee got everyone out on the lake regardless while the weather and wind ended up cooperating. The Windsurfer course was set inside the catamaran and monohull course and the start was separate. This worked out well and the 13 Windsurfers sailed 4 races. Though a start for open class sailboards was offered none showed. The prizes, fine O'Neil bags and T-shirts were given to the top three racers in each class.

Heavys: Steve Lutter, Roger Stone, John Travis

Lights: Jeremy Bishop, Dave Perrin/Scott Rowe, Peter Hixson

Windsurfer One-Design Racing in the Finger Lakes (and western New York) - 1984

FINGER LAKES REGION ATTRACTI0NS 1984

I LOVE NEW YORK

Dear Fellow Windsurfer,

The "winter that wasn't" will be over shortly. It's time for our annual winter sale. Windsurfer International has added boards to its line, which is great, but will complicate the matter somewhat. The winter buy offers boards at prices you won't see during the season. It allows us to customize our order and avoid large interest payments - in short - you benefit as well as we do.

To take advantage of the winter buy, a $100 deposit per board must be received by March 1, with the balance due before April 15. We will try our best to obtain the sail color you prefer.

The "NEW BOARDS"

Windsurfer Competition - The standard Windsurfer board with a cassette daggerboard system and mylar sail - all race legal

Windsurfer Win - A true open class racer, designed for light air and inland lake racing - long and narrow - has an 18" adjustable mast track, retractable daggerboard with cassette and a 65 sq. ft. mylar sail - plus a high aspect fin

Windsurfer Offshore - for heavy-weather sailing - footstraps - 18" mast track - 7/8" more bow scoop - retractable daggerboard with cassette and a 65 sq. ft. mylar sail - Rocket TT mast

IWCA District 7 Windsurfer One-Design Racing - 1985

In retrospect, the Finger Lakes Windsurfer one design racing scene did not last that long. For all intents and purposes, it was over by 1985. Several of the better local sailors headed west to the Columbia River Gorge in Washington State. Others continued to sail locally looking for the best wind and wave conditions.

Worldwide one design racing also began to quickly decline. The sport of windsurfing, both from an equipment and a business perspective was changing rapidly. Multiple vendors began offering shorter and lighter boards for wave riding and jumping. Sail designs were evolving. The top international sailors began competing professionally in course and slalom racing as well as wave riding and freestyle. The perception in the US became that windsurfing primarily took place at hot spots such as the Columbia River Gorge and Maui, Hawaii where wave riding and jumping prevailed. These require top end equipment and high levels of skill. The sport seemingly left the entry level and recreational sailor behind although it remained more broadly popular in Europe, Japan, and Australia.

In recent times, one design windsurfer racing has made a comeback worldwide. New board and rig designs have made learning to windsurf much easier.

In the Finger Lakes area, there are still windsurfers in places such as Ithaca and Rochester and probably others scattered about, but there is not yet a revived one design racing scene locally.
